PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Researchers,

My, how times flies! The new year (2011) is here, and it doesn't seem that long ago we were celebrating the Millennium.

You'll find the new list of the speakers and topics listed on a special page of this issue for the next coming months of the Monthly Programs on our 2nd Saturdays. In January, Tom O'Brien will be speaking on "Using Heritage Quest", a database, which is rich with census records, American Revolutionary War pension record images (the kind you used to send a multi-layered form back to the National Archives in Washington DC). Find them, print them. Also, PERSI (an index to articles in genealogy society newsletters/quarterlies) and more. Come, learn, enjoy!

The Education Committee has done a wonderful job of organizing these speakers. Due to conflicts of some of the leaders on the committee (other speaking engagements), the mini-classes starting in January will be temporarily suspended until next year when we hope we'll be in our new location. We praise this group of dedicated volunteers for their time, as many of them were the speakers themselves.

Our Spring Seminar on April 2nd will feature nationally known speaker Tom Jones. No, not the one of singing fame. See the flyer in this issue of the Insider as well as coming Insiders.

Ancestry.com on our computers has been well received and well used. Results there have folks searching our book shelves for even more information on their ancestors. We have five user-friendly computers loaded with the program, as well as a wireless system that allows folks with laptops to get onto the program (only in our library), and be able to print off census and records they find too, as well as Social Security Death Indexes, Oregon Death Index, WW1 draft records of some states are featured, plus some family trees.

Are you not so savvy with a computer, but want to try to use the Ancestry.com records?

Come to the library, and our Research Assistants on the desk will guide you. All are skilled using the software programs as well as able to help you find books on your chosen locality to continue your research.

Relocation of our library is a top topic at our Board meetings, and we will try to keep you posted. A tentative moving date is set for July of 2011, as the TriMet extension of the MAX line to Milwaukie is still on track!

Come to a Monthly Program or a board meeting. Join an interest group, become one of our friendly volunteers. . .

Library Collection News

Today's exploration begins with Dewey number 970.6—Loyalists. Here you will find: The Royal Commission on the Losses and Service of American Loyalists 1783-1785 and other similar volumes.

Dewey number 971 represents the vastness of Canada. First, we find material that covers more than one province. Perhaps a quick look at A Bibliography of New England Planters in the Maritime Provinces of Canada will lead you to source material for your family. You may find information about specific families in books such as: Central Canadians 1600-1900 (3 vols), or, Dictionnaire Genealogique Des Familles Canadiennes. Next, are a few volumes of Canadian history, followed by a handful of books full of suggestions on how to achieve your Canadian research goals. Following the Canada General material is a section on Acadian research (971.018). This is a small selection, but does have a seven volume set of Acadien Descendants.

Next time, we will visit the Provinces.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR GFO WEBSITE

“What a fabulous site! Not only are your indexes very helpful but there is much other helpful information !! I don’t know how long you have been online, but I have never come across the site before, despite many hours searching Oregon’s records for sightings of my husband’s several Oregon ancestors. I wish I lived close enough to volunteer, but I am about a ten-hour drive away, slightly too far to commute. Your information is clear, easy to navigate thorough, and meticulously organized.

“I may not be able to volunteer, but you may depend on the fact I will be using your services and spreading the word about the wonderful ”new” site I have found!!”

Sincerely, Mary Ann Hendrix Thurmond

PROOFREADER NEEDED FOR THE *INSIDER

With many thanks to Bob La Du for his work as proofreader for the last several issues, his schedule will not allow him to continue this volunteer contribution. Therefore, we need a replacement in time for the February issue.

The job entails accepting an attachment in pdf format on one’s computer, searching for missing commas or extra periods, misspellings, etc. making a list of these corrections and retuning the list by email.

There are 8 issues per year: January, February, April, May, July August and October and November. The Bulletin Is published the other 4 months.

The issue deadlines are the 6th of the month, and the uncorrected issue is sent to the proofreader around the 10th with a 4-day turn-a-round before it’s sent to the publisher. Anyone interested in this task, please email the Editor, Janis Bailey at jbailey172@comcast.net

INTEREST GROUP NEWS

The GFO DNA Interest Group will meet on the following Tuesdays from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

January 11, 2011

April 12, 2011

July 12, 2011

October 11, 2011

January's meeting will include a review of the Family Tree DNA Conference held October 28-31, 2010. This will include updates on the new GAP Administrator pages, Family Finder, new Y-DNA markers, an update of the American Society of Human Genetics (ASHG) white paper and their view of Genetic Genealogy.

April's meeting will include an update of the "Who Do You Think You Are?" Conference in London, along with other items of interest.

As always, there will be time for your questions, and any interested person is most welcomed.

Please see Emily's blog for current information on the new Family Finder Test as well as coming articles on the FTDNA Conference and DNA Success Stories.

Go to the GFO website (www.gfo.org) to order a test by clicking on the FTDNA icon. If you have questions on what test fits your needs, email Emily at: aulicino@hevanet.com

Whether you have tested or not, if you have any interest in Genetic Genealogy (the use of DNA for genealogy), join the International Society of Genetic Genealogy (ISOGG), a non-profit organization designed to educate and inform the public about Genetic Genealogy. Membership is free and no strings are attached. Join the Newbie email list and ask any questions you wish. Experts will help you understand how DNA testing can benefit your genealogy. To join: www.isogg.org

BRITISH GROUP

The January 22, 2011. Speaker is a representative from the Daughters of the British Empire. The rest of meeting will focus on Brick Wall problems and future topics that the group might like to explore. Eight of us enjoyed our recent tea luncheon in Lake Oswego when the Daughters of the British Empire was holding a fundraiser for it's project which included a bazaar.

A NEW GERMAN INTEREST GROUP ??

In the GFO surveys over the past few years, Germany has been at or near the top of countries of interest among our members. This has started some discussion about establishing a new interest group focusing on German genealogy research. Would you be interested in such a group? It could meet monthly or alternate months. Program topics could range from as simple as people getting together to share ideas for researching to a program of speakers on a range of topics. The group could even take field trips to German delis or restaurants or special events. One person has volunteered to help organize a first meeting if at least two or three others volunteer to help. A few people have already indicated a willingness to share what they know about researching in areas of Germany with such a group. If you are interested, and especially if you are willing to help, send an email message to gfoinfo@hotmail.com or leave a note or phone message at the GFO Library.

October 2010 Seminar Survey Results

The Fall Seminar with Paula Stuart-Warren was a great success, with all four presentations full of useful information and research ideas. The 111 attendees enthusiastically supported the book sales and hotly contested with raffle tickets for lunch with speaker Paula, lunch with two of our genealogy experts- Connie Lenzen and Nedra Brill and vied for free registration for the Spring Seminar with Tom Jones. The vast majority of the 85% of returned survey and seminar evaluations rated all the sessions Very Good or Excellent, and included many positive comments about the information gained. All the evaluations, including every single positive or negative comment, have been shared with the speaker and with the GFO Board and Education Committee.

The survey indicated that most of the attendees were long-time members of GFO, but 25% were non members or members for less than three years. Germany lead the pack (by a wide margin) as the country of interest for future seminar presentations, with the British Isles next. The top five states of interest were IL, NY, OH, OR, and MO.

Preferred types of articles for The Bulletin included those relating to genealogy research techniques: how or find and analyze records of various types, such as police or emigration records or land records to trace land ownership; and strategies for researching in specific countries such as Ireland, Germany, or Switzerland. History also rated highly. Suggestions ranged from the Oregon timber industry to counties in the British Isles. (One person suggested we should leave history articles to the Historical Societies and instead focus on specific genealogy topics. ) Technology was the third highly rated area. Suggested topics included reports on and evaluations of new programs and web sites, and how to use them; demonstrations of tools; finding online access to images of vital records and digital images of newspapers; genealogy on a Mac; using Genline; and integrating photos into family history. (For those of you who missed the Monthly Meeting presented by Larry Sullivan, in which he described the many useful online resources posted on our GFO Web Site, be sure to look there for the many excellent sites Larry has listed.)

Two of my favorite comments on the seminar were "Fun day! Thanks so much!" and "These seminars are enjoyable. Nice facility, great food, wonderful people. I'm looking forward to April." All who helped put on the Seminar wish to thank you for coming and for helping make it a fun, enjoyable, informative day for everyone. Remember to mark April 2 on your calendar for the coming Spring Seminar!

JUST A REMINDER

On days when the weather is snowy or icy, it's a good policy to call GFO first to be sure the library is open before going in. ( 503) 963-1932

Thanks,
Cathy Lauer

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Joanne Nehler posed a question to Lyleth, which was passed to “orforum” about where one can buy archival boxes for storing important family papers. She had heard several times of the importance of these boxes to keep papers from deteriorating..

THE T.V. PROGRAM “WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE”

A favorite of genealogists, “Who Do You Think You Are” is set to return on NBC, local channel 8, on January 21st at 8:00 p.m.

There is very little information available about the schedule of guests for the 2011 season as this newsletter goes to press. There is a rumor that Rosie O’Donnell will be featured in one episode.

WATERLOO TO WWII- ANCESTRY’S NEW SITE

Ancestry.com.uk announced in November the launch online of a fully searchable collection of war medals awarded to British soldiers for heroism in military campaigns from the Napoleonic Wars through World War II. This will also include World War I service and pension records.

The announcement says that “typically the records reveal the name of the soldier, campaign, regiment, regimental number, medal or award entitlement, and occasionally detailed citations of why the medal was awarded.”*

*Ancestry.com.uk press release of November 9, 2010

One might ask what importance this site has for those of us whose ancestors only fought in wars for the United States? I, for one, in doing my research, never thought of any of my ancestors fighting in foreign Wars until I came across the photo below. This is from a photo album handed down from my grandmother, Irene Stuart Kemp Fraim. The gentleman standing is Robert (William) Stuart. My Grandmother said he was William, but a newspaper caption under this photo called him Robert..

The story of the two men is interesting, and I've told it before. The seated gentleman is Augustus Le Clere, who fought under Napoleon in the Battle of Waterloo June 15, 1803 while my g-g-g-g Grandfather, Robert, fought for the British under Wellington in the same battle. They met in 1878 when they became members of the Marcy Avenue Baptist Church in New York City.

I haven't been able to discover what type medals Robert is wearing or the reason for the awards. The new ancestry.com.uk website may provide the answers I've long been looking for. I do know that Stuart was in the 91st (Highland) Regiment. He was born in 1793 in Glasgow, Scotland.

Good luck to others in finding ancestors in the last 200 years of British military campaigns on this ancestry.com.uk website.

Telling Your Story:
Writing Contest Awards & Presentations for All
By Peggy Baldwin

There is something for everyone in this year's contest awards. Of course, you can enter and tell your story. But, even if you are just beginning to think about sharing your research findings, you will want to come to the presentation of awards at the GFO monthly meeting on Saturday, April 9th at 2 p.m.

We will have presentations about ways to present your family story – in writing, pictures, or a combination of both. The GFO Writers' Forum and the Heritage Scrapbooking groups will be present, with examples of various ways of telling your story that will excite your family.

Please come to celebrate the accomplishments of the contest winners, but also to learn how you can share your own family story!

For those of you writing furiously to get your contest entry ready, this is a reminder that February 1st is the due date!! Read the October issue of the GFO Insider for ideas about how to write to this year's theme or visit the GFO Writing Contest web pages -- <http://www.gfo.org/writingcontest/index.htm>.

If you still have questions, feel free to contact Peggy Baldwin at peggy.baldwin@family-passages.com. Please carefully read the contest requirements below, so you don't have any last minute surprises!

Contest Requirements:

Piece must be written to the theme: "Movin' On" – a factual story about ancestors who moved from one place to another.

Length — 750 to 5000 words

MONTHLY PROGRAMS FOR 2011

January 8, 2011 - Thomas O'Brien, "Using Heritage Quest"

February 12, 2011 - "About Lincoln"

March 12, 2011 - Thomas O'Brien "The Amazing Irish"

April 9, 2011 - Peggy Baldwin "Writing Your Stories"

May 14, 2011- Connie Lenzen "Roots Television - A Painless Way To Learn"

June 11, 2011- Warren W. Aney "Oregon Military" (Col. Aney is the Oregon Army National Guard Historian.)
