Portland, Or.

Nov. 8th 1898.

It is with profound sorrow that we announce the death of Henry Failing, for nearly thirty years the president of this bank.

Mr. Failing was taken ill in July last, and while his condition occasioned anxiety, it was not considered critical until about two weeks before his death.

His loss will be deeply felt not only in this community, but throughout the Northwest, and especially by those who have been associated with him in business.

It is with inexpressible sadness we make this personal announcement of the death of our father,

William Gargent Ladd,

on Friday morning, January 6, 1893.

Wm. M. Ladd,

Chas. E. Ladd,

J. Wesley Ladd.

Portland, Oregon, January, 1893.

Portland, Oregon, January 14th, 1893.

To our Correspondents:

Dear Sirs—

MR. WM. S. LADD was the founder, and the senior for thirty-four years, of the banking house of

in this city. The nature of his long time partial paralysis was a continual admonition of danger, and therefore with characteristic forethought and method, he so shaped his business affairs as to cause the least possible disturbance in the event of his death.

It was his cherished intention for years, to perpetuate his banking business and he closely associated his successors with himself in its management, and gradually relinquished his own active participation in it. His opinions and methods in his business, and his solicitude for its development and success, are well understood and shared by his successors, and the business will be continued in the name of LADD & TILTON, and substantially as he founded and left it.

We believe that in so doing we will not only reflect honor upon him but will subserve the best interests of our patrons and community, and also assure our own success, to the accomplishment of which the whole estate of Mr. Ladd stands pledged.

Faithfully yours,

LADD & TILTON.

In Memoriam.

TO THE PEOPLE OF JACKSONVILLE:

At this time of deep and widespread bereavement over the untimely death of our worthy and beloved President, William McKinley, who has fallen a victim at the hands of a dastardly assassin, we deem it fitting that we mingle our feelings of abhorrence of and regret for the foul deed with the feelings of the Nation.

WHEREAS, Thursday, September 19, 1901, is the day appointed on which the body of the late President will be conveyed to its earthly resting-place; and whereas the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, now President of the United States of America, has especially set apart said day as a day of mourning and prayer throughout the Nation;

WE, THEREFORE, earnestly request that the citizens of Jacksonville and vicinity suspend all public and private business while they engage in the public exercises to be held in respect to the memory of our deceased President in the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock A. M. of said day. On which occasion, besides religious services, short and appropriate addresses will be delivered by Hon. H. I. Benson, Wm. M. Colvig and A. E. Reames. Special music will be provided.

By request of many citizens.
