TOPICS FOR THE SEMINAR

PAULA STUART-WARREN, CG. Since the early 1980's, Paula has worked full-time in the area of genealogical and historical research, lecturing, consulting, and writing. She has been a Board-Certified Genealogist since 1988, passing the periodical renewal assessments by the National Board for Certification of Genealogists. She is a firm believer in education and strives to keep up-to-date by participating in national and local conferences. We welcome Paula's expertise, experience, and her dedication to the world of genealogy.

Research Rewards in County Courthouses and Town Hall Records Courthouses and town halls all across the U. S. are treasure troves of records for family history research. Yes, they include birth, death, marriage, and probate records, but go far beyond these. Learn about these basics and also tax, divorce, naturalization, criminal and civil court records, and others.

Tho' They Were Poor, They May Have Been Rich in Records So many researchers put up artificial brick walls because their ancestors weren't land owners, were perennial renters staying one step ahead of the bill collector, or didn't leave behind a ten page will listing all the children. Many researchers figure that the trail runs cold, but that is far from the truth.

Lord Preserve Us! Church Records for Family History Research Not all of our ancestors belonged to an organized religion. For those who did, the records which have survived until today can often be helpful to genealogists. Names, dates, relationships, places of new and former residences, burial location, and other details may be learned.

Midwestern & Plains State Level Census Records Many Midwestern and Plains states have superb state census records. Learn about the indexes, the many personal details these censuses include, locating the censuses, and alternate sources. The personal details vary but may include names of children, maiden names, military service, religious denomination, mother of how many children, occupation, value of real estate, and other helpful details.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

On behalf of the board and myself, we hope you are having a great summer with some lucky finds in your ongoing research. Many of our members are attending family reunions this summer or doing research in quiet little cemeteries in the countryside of their late ancestors.

We hope you will take the time to attend our annual OPEN HOUSE & SURPLUS BOOK SALE on Saturday, August 7th. In addition to the usual tours, database demonstrations, surplus book sales and questions for the experts, we are presenting an Appraisal Faire with our own Harvey Steele in the now vacant Irish Dancers' studio next door from 1 to 3 p.m. Also in the former Dancers' studio, we are fortunate to have local author Clarence Mershon on hand in the 10:00 a.m. to Noon period, to tell us about the building of the Historic Old Columbia River Highway, the dynamiting of the site and preparation of Crown Point and the Vista House.

If you are an interested participant in the Appraisal Faire, please see the back of the Open House flyer for sign-up info. Onlookers are quite welcome...Harvey is so knowledgeable, giving us a taste of our own "Antiques Road Show". The items to be appraised are asked to be heirlooms, heritage items, something passed down through the family. You can keep the item with you, and bring it to exhibit the day of the show, but he needs a write-up submitted previously to analyze the item (on the back of the flyer or on our website), hopefully a photo would accompany it. At our last endeavor, a couple of years back, Judy Goldmann was able to share something passed down through the Joseph Meek family, her ancestor. If you love Oregon history, it was quite an educational treat. I have an aqua dolphin glass match holder. All my mother could tell me was that it always held toothpicks at the dinner table when she grew up. Only once have I seen another piece of the aqua dolphin glass and that was a fruit compote.

In September, we will resume our Monthly Programs with more interesting speakers. Also, our interest groups will start meeting regularly. Please join us.

Lyleth Winther (Any ideas or suggestions? Please contact me...503-658-8018 or lylaw1@verizon.net)

BRITISH GROUP NEWS.

All interested GFO members with ancestors from the British Isles to America are welcome to join us for our September meeting on the 4th Saturday of the month--Sept. 25th--from 1 to 3 p.m. (There is a separate active Irish Group at GFO, if that is your strongest suit.) We usually have an interesting speaker, or explore useful British themed websites regarding England, Wales, & Scotland, in the first hour, while spending time in the second hour on brick wall problems. We are fortunate to have two of our members who were recent researchers in England, Scotland and Wales. In the past, the group has enjoyed a field trip each year--visiting the restored Fort Vancouver, the McLoughlin House, and Lady Di's Tea Shop in Lake Oswego--experiencing a High Tea luncheon.

Join us. Contact person: Lyleth Winther, 503-658-8018 or lylaw1@verizon.net.

NOTE: ABOUT OPEN HOUSE DAY

Library computers are closed to regular researchers on OPEN HOUSE DAY as they are in use for the demonstrations of our databases--like Ancestry.com or family search.org..etc.

DAY AFTER OPEN HOUSE DAY

Didn't get enough genealogy action at the Open House and Surplus Book Sale on August 7th? Then, sign-up for the Beginning Genealogy 101 class on Sunday, August 8th. Sign-up fee is $15. Our very capable Connie Lenzen leads the class. It will be held in the former Dancer's Studio next to our reading room.

MOVING AHEAD

By Don Holznel

We are getting closer to certainty in our plans to relocate GFO operations. At its meeting of July 13, the GFO Board approved the following calendar to govern our strategy.

October 1 – Committee begins property search

January – Approximate time of offer by TriMet to purchase current building

April 30 – Completion of property selection and lease process, and selection of moving company

May-June – Completion of modifications and preparation of new facility

July 1 – Carry out the move

The rationale for the selection of the July time is that it provides certainty for our education and special interest group requirements for meeting facilities throughout the year, and for our fiscal year financial planning. It also allows for the possibility that the TriMet calendar might slide depending on the process of review and approval of their acquisitions plans by outside agencies. This strategy received the informal concurrence of our TriMet contact. Announcements will be made in September to give directions to any members who wish to recommend properties to the Relocation Committee for investigation, and for volunteer opportunities to carry out preparation activities.

It is clear that we will need to be prepared to pay monthly lease costs for both the old and new properties for a period of one or two months to allow for any needed modifications and preparations for the new site. This means that we will need to campaign for additional funds to insure we can cover those expenses. As I've said before, we still need to be flexible, but I'm greatly encouraged by this plan and the continued positive expectations of the TriMet staff for completing their processes.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

The pH Testing Pen

Beginning genealogists learn early of the importance of using acid-free paper and boxes for long-term storage of important documents. In his June 14, 2010 newsletter, Dick Eastman wrote about a new pH Testing Pen, which is used to discover whether the paper we are using is acid-free.

Eastman points out that most acid-free paper is marked as such on the label, but often the label is missing from opened packages and what about old documents that perhaps need to be recopied on archival paper? Now, there is an inexpensive way to determine the presence of acid.

Using the pen, available on line from $2.95 to $5.99, make a dot or a line on the suspect paper. The chemical in the pen will cause the ink to turn yellow on the paper if there is high acid content, green for light acid content and blue on acid-free paper.

Amazon.com sells the pH Testing Pen by Lineco for $5.95 and one from American Crafts for $7.52. Make sure what you order is designed to test paper. There are those which test garden soils, or water.

Ancestry.com Will Acquire Genline.se

Pending approval by its stockholders, the Swedish genealogy website's Board of Directors has agreed to be acquired by Ancestry.com, Inc.

This is of interest to GFO members in light of Genline's presentation to the Forum on May 2, 2010.

NEWS OF GFO'S VOLUNTEERS
New Research Assistant, Tom O'Brien

I think I joined GFO about 1997 (13 years ago). I attended two presentation/tours that Sandi Whiteman had conducted. She explained the cataloging system (which previously had always confused me). She also showed each group the vast array of resources that are available at the GFO. It gave me the opportunity to realize how ignorant I was concerning these wonderful resources. When Sandi mentioned that 85% of the holdings were for places other than the Pacific Northwest, she had me hooked. After 12 years as a member of the GFO and having virtually ignored the holdings in this library, I knew that I needed to explore this local resource in greater detail. You might say that Sandi hooked me and then when the opportunity arose to volunteer I accepted the opportunity.

In the October 2009 Insider, Shirley Wilkerson reported that due to illness and other personal reasons, there was a lack of Research Assistants. If new volunteers did not come forward the library would be forced to eliminate some days and/or hours. Five weeks previously, I had resigned as a volunteer at the Family History Center in Milwaukie. This brief period in which I was not able to get a weekly genealogical fix along with the obvious need for volunteers prompted me to volunteer to serve as a research assistant at the GFO.

I'm extremely happy that I volunteered as I've had the opportunity to associate with and learn from some of the most knowledgeable genealogical researchers in the Pacific Northwest.

Perhaps the most interesting and rewarding experience that I receive as a volunteer is the opportunity to continually learn as I work with the library patrons and staff. They are all willing to share their knowledge and experiences with me, thus effectively helping me to grow in my own knowledge of history.

If anyone desires to increase their knowledge, whether it be of a certain geographic area, the culture of a certain population or just history in general, I think they will discover that volunteering as a research assistant at the GFO will present those opportunities for growth. To be honest, I've done many things in my lifetime and I'd have to say that volunteering at the GFO has certainly been one of the most rewarding.

By spending more time in the library and time with patrons I'm becoming more familiar with resources that are available. As I see something of interest, frequently I'll set it aside on top of my book bag until I have the chance to explore it in more detail. As I work on my own research I find myself using the collection at the GFO more often than I did in the past.

My personal research interests focus on Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota & Oregon. Beyond the U.S. borders, my interests offer me the opportunity to learn about Belgium, France, (especially the Nord, Pas-de-Calais, Lorraine and Alsace regions) many areas in present day Germany and many Counties in Ireland.

Not surprisingly my Irish ancestors still present my greatest challenges. I'm currently focused on learning the origin of one Felix Scherer, my great grandfather. According to family story, he may have been born in Alsace or Lorraine. I'm placing my bets on either the Moselle or the Meurthe-Et-Moselle Department. This task should keep me busy as the Moselle Departement has 761 towns and the Meurthe-Et-Moselle Departement has 617 towns.

I'd encourage anyone who would like to grow in their knowledge to contact Lyleth Winther or Cathy Lauer to volunteer their time as a Research Assistant.

Happy Hunting To All!

Tom O'Brien

THINGS TO DO IN AUGUST

August is often considered vacation month. If you do a Google search for August vacation, you'll get over 41 million hits. If you do a Google search for August genealogy vacation, the number goes down, but at over 200,000 hits, that's still a lot.

Go onsite

When Gerry's aunts and uncles were alive, we would plan a vacation to visit them in Wisconsin. Our most memorable onsite vacation was the year we went to visit my father's Aunt Vivian and found that she had died the previous year. If you are going onsite in August, you might want to check out Kimberly Powel's "Planning a Genealogy Vacation" guide on About.com. URL: http://genealogy.about.com/od/research\_trips/a/planning.htm.

Things to do in Portland

The Portland Police Museum is a museum like no other. It's here that you can get the feel for policing through the decades. The museum is in the Justice Center in downtown Portland, and it's open from Tuesday through Friday. Since they request you call before visiting, check out the webpage, http://www.portlandpolitemuseum.com/museum\_002.htm, for full details.

Lone Fir Cemetery is the oldest Portland cemetery. The Friends of the Lone Fir Cemetery offer tours of the cemetery on the second Saturday of every month from 10:00 a.m. to noon. For full details, see their website, <http://www.friendsoflonefircemetery.org/>.

The Bosco-Milligan Foundation is sponsoring a Terra Cotta Portland: Downtown Walking Tour on 5 August from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. and 7 August from 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The cost is $18.00. Registration details are on their webpage, <http://www.visitahc.org/content/upcoming-programs>

Tri Met has a page of "Destinations to Discover" on their website, <http://www.trimet.org/destinations/index.htm>. They have divided the destinations into nature, fun, quiet time, culture, and hot spots categories. I thought I knew a lot about Portland, but there are a couple of destinations that I've not heard about.

Things to do at the GFO library

Check out the new books.

Look at the Multnomah County deed microfilms.

Ask the Research Assistants to show you how to use Ancestry.

Go to the Open House on 7 August.

Attend the "Genealogy 101" class on 8 August.

LIBRARY COLLECTION NEWS

Our European Tour continues in Italy. Thanks to the generosity of one of our Members, we have all twenty-six volumes of the Italians to America series in addition to some History and How-to material. Next come a sprinkling from Spain and “Russia”, followed by the Scandinavian material. First, find materials that refer to “Scandinavia” as a whole, then sections for each individual Scandinavian country. Belgium has just a few items. Switzerland is next. Take a look at Lists of Swiss Emigrants to the American Colonies, or the three-volume set Men of Bern.

Asia is next—this is a very small collection. There is some good material for The Philippines here, followed by two lonely volumes for the entire continent of Africa.

Next time—On to the The New World!
