Abstract: The Brown family history papers contain a wealth of information gathered from many sources, much of it obtained through correspondence with other researchers and family members. Boxes 1-7 contain family group sheets organized by family lines. Box 10 contains copies and transcripts of a diary kept by Job Sayre Dixon (1822-1893) who lived in Salem County, New Jersey. Robert Brown did the transcription and created a name index for the diaries. The remainder of the boxes contain correspondence, research notes, copies of land, probate, and vital records, and a few photos.

The most common surnames are Brown, Burroughs, Charlton, Evans, Hemphill, Hibner, and Linebarger. The most common locations were Oregon, Illinois, Ohio, and New York.

Biographical Note

Robert Wallace Brown was born on 20 May 1925 in Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon. He married Doris Arrilda Burroughs on 4 September 1948 in Portland. Doris was born on 28 April 1927 in Linn County, Missouri, and moved to Portland with her family while she was in high school. They moved several times during their marriage. After retirement, they settled in Tualatin, Washington County, Oregon.

Bob attended Pacific University and Oregon State University, where he earned PhD in Mathematics. After working at Boeing for eight years, Bob turned to teaching, spending most of his career at the University of Alaska Fairbanks. Doris worked as a secretary for various companies. Both were interested in their family history, as reflected in their several decades of research. They joined the Genealogical Forum of Oregon in 1984 and were active for many years.

10 Diaries of Job Sayre Dixon (1822-1893) of Salem County, New Jersey. The files include photocopies of the original diaries dated 1876, 1878, 1879, 1882, 1883, 1886, 1887, 1890, 1891, and 1893.

They also include handwritten transcripts of the diaries done by Robert W. Brown in 1990. There are typewritten name indexes for each diary. Some indexes include a list of deaths noted in that year's diary. Mr. Brown's connection to Job Dixon appears to be through Job's wife, Eliza Fogg (Brown) Dixon.

Job Sayre Dixon lived his entire life in Salem County, New Jersey. The 1893 diary was kept by Job until a few days before he died. His death and burial, as well as subsequent entries for the year, were recorded in a different hand by an unknown writer.
